Helping our Customers Recognize the Full Potential of their IT Investment

InquisIT deploys your hardware and software solution with an efficient, cohesive process. Nothing is more frustrating than a disruptive installation. Our methodical process accomplishes its objectives with minimal disruption to your business.

InquisIT's deployment process succeeds by combining the efforts of many technologies and individuals. We identify the best product to fill a need, the most effective delivery medium, and the personnel best suited to manage the project.

- Before deployment commences, we establish goals and milestones, assign roles, and conduct a pilot.
- During deployment, we continually monitor the process to ensure that the milestones are on track and technical problems are resolved quickly.
- Post-deployment activity focuses on sustaining and supporting the products deployed and any additional customer needs.

The most critical aspect of updating your infrastructure is a timely and efficient hardware or software deployment. A poorly executed deployment is not satisfactory to us and should not be for you. InquisIT ensures its deployment team has the resources it needs to minimize your downtime and maximize your expectations.
