MANAGED SERVICES

Serving Mission Goals

Accelerating IT.

Creating an exceptional level of service requires balancing support capabilities, accessibility, security, and cost constraints all while driving innovation. Many IT companies within the federal market look the same, but only a few are truly equipped with the knowledge, understanding, and track record to provide your agency with exceptional service.

InquisIT is one of few companies in the federal sector with roots in the commercial space while also bringing over 30 years of experience in Federal IT Contracting. We understand the needs of your users, your agency, and the direction that IT support is heading. As a result, we are driving custom Managed Services into the Federal IT sector.

WHAT ARE MANAGED SERVICES?

Managed Services are outsourcing of responsibilities around maintaining, operating, and improving your infrastructure. It provides the opportunity for industry Managed Services Providers (MSPs) like InquisIT to share portions of resources while defining clear service levels for your agency. Not all agencies are the same, therefore, we work with our federal customers to create a completely custom solution allowing them to allocate resources to maximize focus on their mission and data, and establish clear SLAs for IT support. For expanded projects, security testing, enterprise architecture, and other customer needs we also offer hourly labor support.

AGENCY NEEDS

The federal IT landscape is always changing, and today is no exception. In addition to new technologies, cyber threats, user expectations, and a need to focus on data, the work environment has wholly evolved. Agencies are more motivated now than ever to implement robust telework solutions, assure users have all technology assets needed, and drive costs down through consolidations, real estate, and scale.
